Dear friend Alice,

I havenot written nor heard from you for a long time. How are you all feeling, around your place? We are all fine and hope you are the same.

It is about 425 now and I did not go to school to_day because I have a bad cold and a head ache.

Well how is Arcadia getting along? We are having PUNK weather nowadays in Richmond, real hot summer weather.

Mother and Jeff And all the rest of the people around here have gone to Frisco, to the show, so I am alone.

Please excuse me for not writting to you with hand, we havenno ink, except black and I wont use that stuff. SO. Gee, I;m mad at every one. I dont know why, but I just am mad. Funny way to be, isnt it? Every one around here is sick. And its the _____ weather that gets us to. Gosh, its awful.

Well what I;ve written seems like an awful lot to me, while it, probably seems like nothing to you. Because if I was getting this letter I would think it was. WELL I guess I will knock off for this time. Hoping this letter finds you all in the best of health. I remain as ever,

Your loving friend,
Elsie Carr.

P.S.

P.S. I have forgotten your box no. So I;m not going to put any on. Is it all right? BYEBYE.
